Disclosure Policy

It is the policy of the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences (UAMS) College of Medicine to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all sponsored or jointly sponsored educational activities. All individuals who are in a position to control the content of the educational activity (course/activity directors, planning committee members, staff, teachers, or authors of CME) must disclose all relevant financial relationships they have with any commercial interest(s) as well as the nature of the relationship. Financial relationships of immediate family members must also be disclosed, if the nature of the relationship could influence the objectivity of the individual in a position to control the content of the CME. The ACCME describes relevant financial relationships as those in any amount occurring within the past 12 months that create a conflict of interest. Individuals who refuse to disclose will be disqualified from participation in the development, management, presentation, or evaluation of the CME activity.

Educational Objectives

This two-day international workshop will focus on the controversies and innovations in the management, diagnosis and scientific investigation of vascular anomalies of the head and neck. The workshop shall consist of contributions from many countries to explore novel treatments, interdisciplinary tools and approaches to difficult cases as presented by invited leaders of the field. The course is designed to address sophisticated clinical questions and current basic science for practitioners invested in treating patients with hemangiomas and vascular malformations of the head and neck. Featured presentations will be followed by topic specific abstracts to cover current and novel information regarding vascular malformations and hemangiomas. Open forum and discussion will be encouraged at the end of each session to draw new information and consensus on management and future research directions. Three-fourths of the program will be dedicated to vascular malformations with the remaining one-fourth addressing new information on hemangiomas.

Call for Abstracts

Abstract shall be less than 250 words with specific focus on diagnosis, management and scientific investigation of vascular anomalies of the head and neck. Abstract format shall contain the following sections-Objective, Methods, Results and Conclusions. Abstracts must be submitted via e-mail at va.symposium.abstract@gmail.com. Please provide contact information. Abstracts must be received no later than May 15, 2009. After review of the abstracts by the scientific committee, the presenter will be informed by June 15 regarding their acceptance for oral or poster presentation.

Proceedings from the symposium will be published.
